Allied Troops Are Hurried Northward from Saloniki to Assist Serbians; New Greek Cabinet Formed

LONDON, Oct. 7 .- (10 p. m.) - The long threatened Austro-German offensive in the Balkans, with the added menace of Bulgaria, has begun in earnest.

Almost simultaneously with the rupture of diplomatic relations between Sofia and the entente powers an Austro-German army estimated at 100,000 men with an enormous weight of heavy artillery, started to attack Serbia from the north and west and, according to the Berlin official report, crossed the Drina, Danube and Save at many points and firmly established itself on the Serbian side.

The Anglo-French troops, which were landed at Salonki with the tacit consent of the Greek government, are being hurried northward to assist Serbia and, if possible, keep the Bulgarians from capturing the Saloniki-Nish railroad, the only source by which the Serbians can be fed with munitions of war.

Greece Remains Neutral.

The hoped for support from Greece has not been forthcoming. King Constantine, by the dismissal of Premier Venizelos, having shown that, while his country sympathizes with the cause of the allies, he is not prepared to go against the central powers or to fulfill the obligations of the Greeo-Serbian treaty of alliance, which provides that one ally must go to the assistance of the other in the case of attack.

A new Greek cabinet, composed of men of pro-German and proally sympathies, has been appointed and the expectation now is that unless public opinion forces the hand of the government and insists on action on the side of the allies, Greece will remain neutral. It is hardly conceivable to the entente diplomats that Greece will go over to the central powers, for, they point out, Bulgaria is known to covet some of her territory and the treatment of Greek nationals in Turkey makes it virtually impossible for her to become the ally

Rumania Not Heard From,

It is possible that Bulgarla may avoid arousing the Greek people by refraining from attacking Serbla, simply keeping her troops on the border. This would have the effect of preventing Serbla from bringing her full strength to bear against the Austro-German attack. Rumania, the other Balkan state, is still neutral. Rumania has not been heard from, but, like Greece, for the moment is bent on continuing friendly relations with all the belligerents. Doubtless to influence her and the other Balkan states, Russia is re-ported to have commenced an enernortheast of Czernowitz.

World's Series Play by Play at The World Office 1 o'Clock

Unless rain at Philadelphia forces a postponement of the first game for the championship of the baseball world, the first bulletin over the Associated Press lease wire will be received by The World at about 1 o'clock this afternoon. From that time until the game is finished all the plays will be megaphoned to the thousands of Tulsa fans who annually gather in front of The World office to play the game by wire.

Better service than ever before will be given this year. The Associated Press has made extraordinary arrangements to handle the game in more complete detail than in past years. A direct wire connects The World office with the ball park at Philadelphia. There will not be a move made by the players which will not be flashed to The World and received by "Boots" Hendrick, A.
